

You are unique.

And now, so is your pdrma.org ID!

Unique ID Benefits:

Online registration/payment

No more phoning or faxing registrations for PDRMA training programs. Just sign up and pay online!

Personal training overview

Each employee can start building his/her personal PDRMA training history and view current registrations.

Enhanced security

Unique IDs will help further protect sensitive information and PDRMA's many member resources.

Simplified login

Only one user name (and password) to remember, whether you're downloading an LRN document, accessing reports or registering for training.

Some things never change. PDRMA will always provide a wide range of valuable member resources at pdrma.org.

However, the way you access those online resources and register for training has changed. Your new unique ID makes it simpler ... and more secure!

Before, members logged in using their agency's single, shared user name. Effective January 1, each employee must instead log in using his/her own "unique ID" — to access the Training Calendar, members-only forms, LRN resources and newsletters.

Your unique ID

To determine your unique ID, start with your agency's three-digit number and add your first initial and last name. For example, if your agency's number is 101 and your name is Jane Parks, your unique ID would be 101jparks.

Your new password

The first time you log in using your unique ID, your password is pdrma, but you'll be required to change it immediately for better security.

Questions? Trouble logging in?

We're here to help! Contact PDRMA Training Coordinator KimMarie Trostle at 630-435-8934 or ktrostle@pdrma.org.

Note: These unique ID changes will not affect the PDRMA health website. Just log in the usual way.
